Welcome & Course Introduction

Welcome to Career Prep! This course will be your guide on your very own career exploration journey. You will be introduced to a universe of potential careers that could help you create waves of change in the world around you.

Exploring and deciding on one of the greatest decisions in your life - your career (or careers!) - can possibly seem daunting:

- Where will I work?
- What will I do?
- How will I earn a living?

..and many more questions may be springing to mind - but with a little PREParation, and some diligent work, you will find that answering these questions can become easy, and will help you get to know both yourself a little better, and the world around you.

In this first unit, we're going to take the time to introduce you to the journey ahead, as well as lay some groundwork for how you should prepare and participate during the course.

Whether you are taking this course as part of a school program, or starting down the journey on your own online, the information included in this unit will help get you started on the right foot for learning.

Let's get started on your personal journey toward career success!
